“ Bryan it's Wednesday night which means it is getting closer to the day we lay you to rest. I'm sure you would give anything to ease the pain but where your at you feel only the good things. I don't know how I am going to handle this but I'm going to try my best. I'll forever love you dearly and never stop and not even when we lay you to rest. And will think of you thousands of times each and every day. Your being buried next to your pawpaw Dennis which I'm certain the both of you would be happy to know. I keep picking up my phone in hopes you'll call like you do so often but haven't done so in going on five days now. I keep looking at the door hoping you'll walk in at any time but again you haven't in 5 days. My heart aches for you and I miss you so so bad. Even tho we said it every time we talked or saw each other no matter how many times in a day. I wish I could hug you and tell you I love you just one more time. I cherish our memories forever and will keep you with me in my heart forever as well. I love you my dear son Bryan which you knew the whole time you were here. Your my only son that I'll ever have and you know how much I love you without any doubt. I could go on and on especially with memories but I think I need to get some rest. And get ready to see you tomorrow. One other thing I want to tell you is I promise to look after your sis thru all this and with God's help I can help ease her pain. Watch over us all Bryan until we join u in heaven. But just know we love you and miss you so much.
