“ There are no words to express how much you meant to me and the impact you had on my life. I wouldn't have the life I have or be the person I am today without your selfless and endless generosity and love. You experienced so much hardship and despite all that the world did to you you never stopped loving. You truly loved me unconditionally and I will always be grateful. I'll keep you with me always by striving to share the love you showed me with others. You were a beautiful soul and I feel so lucky to have had you. I love you Grammy.

“ Momma, when I first met and hugged you, I asked if I could call you momma. You said, (of course you can baby boy). The hug you gave, made me feel so at home and I did find my second momma. You accepted me and made me so welcome into your family. I cared and loved you in an instant. I felt the same for you. I felt most comfortable and loved in your presence. I slept more soundly in your home than in my own. The comfort you gave me was wondrous. Your hugs genuine and firm. Your smiles warmed my heart and soul. I cherished the words I love you baby boy each and every time you said them to me. You filled a void in my life. I love you for that momma. Thank you for making me feel like a son to you. I will think of and miss you daily. I will keep the last promise I whispered to you to take care of my wife and your daughter for as long as I live. You’ve earned your wings many times over just in my eyes alone. Rest peacefully and if you meet my parents there, tell them I miss and love them as well. Your son, Michael.
