“ Carolyn I have loved you all my life and will love you till the end of mine till we are together again. We had good times and bad but more good than bad. You just will never know how much the last week of your life ment to me I would never change one thing about it We talked about the past and the future and just like I told you what I would in the future I will do. But I know I will miss you so much because I could always talked to you no matter what it was about. But I miss you so much now you just dont know how much. I love you so much but you never know how much I miss you right now because I so need to talk to now llove you.
