“ I'm so sad about Doris' death. I prayed so hard that she would win this battle as she did years ago after the wreck. I have loved Doris so very much for so many years. She was always encouraging, full of laughter and a sister in Christ. She was in my early years and we reconnected when The TADMORE Girls began to bond again. So many fun memories and I cherish the time spent with her. Our TADMORE Girls have lost several sisters so I can only imagine what a re they have every time one more comes to Heaven. My condolence and love to ALL her family, siblings that I love and cherish, and friends. We are all blessed to have known Doris and her physical presence will leave a void. May Christ's love and peace abide during this time of grieving. With love, a friend.....Barbara Reece Harrison
