“ I am still grieving for Eddie. I know the family was not aware of the beautiful, relationship we shared. We had a friendship that most people can never have, because the love we shared lasted over 65 years. Never a month went by that we did not talk or visit. Our relationship was never intimate. It was something we could count on. We were always availed to each other. When my brother Lorenzel died, Eddie cried with me. We were so much more than sister or brother. Eddie was my ROCK . I wish for the family can find the same love we had. I hope you find the spontaneity with a person that means that much to you. At this point, I still do reruns in my mind. Eddie left me memories that most people never have. I have been so blessed to have had him in my life.
