“ I spent the morning reflecting upon my past memories of Uncle Ed. He had a presence of being a very strong and serious person. He was a very generous and balanced individual, in the way he carried himself, how he communicated. He had Faith and strength of character; Due to his humble demeanor, he would sometimes pull out the funniest line, or relate a very funny story. He did this in his humble generous nature to brake the ice.
We love you Uncle Ed, may you forever be at peace in your rest with Our Lord.

“ Our summers in Nags Head with Uncle Ed and Tia Neysa were a magical time for me...and for all of us. I will always remember Uncle Ed worrying about our teenage antics, and loving us at the same time.
