

Floyd James Ryland

July 6, 1947 - October 28, 2019

Floyd James Ryland of Caroline County, Virginia accepted eternal rest on Monday, October 28, 2019 at Piedmont Fayetteville Hospital.

Floyd was a son, brother, father, friend and lover of life. He enjoyed all aspects of life and never took anything for granted. He was a stranger to none and would spark up a conversation with all who crossed his path and imparted wisdom of his life's journey, laughter and countless stories to last a lifetime. He enjoyed cooking, grilling, and frying chicken, a good preached sermon, all variations of gospel music and playing card games with family and friends. Floyd loved sports where his favorite teams were the Oakland Raiders, Boston Celtics and the Cincinnati Reds. He loved a good laugh, joke and seeing his family prosperous. He was a good storyteller and we will miss those stories of wisdom.

At the age of 12, he moved from Richmond, Virginia to Washington, DC and found his life as a youth and was educated in the District of Columbia public schools. He was a jack of all trades and was good with his hands. He worked at the GOP printing office, construction, Peace Corp foreign services and K-mart as a sales associate. There was nothing that he could not do with his hands as he understood God's principles in using them wisely. He trusted God and His plans for his life always putting his hands in the Father's before anyone else while facing health challenges throughout his journey on earth. Floyd loved and cherished his children. He was proud of their accomplishments and achievements in life and would do anything for them.

Floyd loved and cherished his second family, they all adored him because he treated them equally. They were just his children even through adulthood, they kept in touch with him and continued to love one another. Floyd had an unconditional love for all and a heart of gold.

Floyd was preceded in death by his father Floyd Reuben Ryland, mother Ruth Marie Turner, sister Marie Ryland and brother Earl Ryland. He is survived by his legacy Tonyia Ryland of Silver Spring, Maryland, Andre Ryland of Washington, DC and Marie Ryland of Union City, Georgia. Four grandchildren Desiree Ward, Andre Jones, Brandon Ryland and Aleeya Ryland-Scott and two great grandchildren Peyton and Zaiden Ferrell. His Brother Tony and sister-in-law Tinya Ryland of Richmond, Virginia and sister-in-law Mary Ryland of Washington, DC. His second family Cornell Coleman, Eric & Charmaine Schmidt, Everett Carson, Angelica Canady, Jeremiah, Angel & Monique Morrison, devoted friends Vernell Shipman, Janet Carson, Ms. Allen, Nakia Shepherd and Timothy Dingle-El III and a host of family members and friends to cherish his life, memories and nuggets of wisdom.

“ Sending my condolence to the Marie and her family for your loss.

Floyd/Butter, I wanted to send this message for Marie later, after all the crying I hope this message makes her Smile!!!! She remembers the conversation and story her dad was telling us about butter. Well brother you really out did yourself this time....Except no one slide down the wall, only this time you slide on out quietly from us....SMH.. Quietly Hurting.. . You will truly be missed Love you both with all my heart and ask God to give the family strength to make it thru this trying time, I pray time will ease the pain. God Bless you Always Floyd/Butter...Miss and Love you my buddy/Heavenly Angel on High...Tell my family hello for me and I miss and love them so much also as well...Gone but never forgotten....Fly High Brother, Fly High ....Enjoy your New Life!!!!
