“ To the family:

I'm very sorry for your loss. Losing our loved ones is distressing because we naturally want to keep living happily with our family and friends. (Ecclesiastes 3:11) It's comforting to know that God cares about us and knows what it's like to lose a loved one. (1 Peter 5:7) Thankfully, God has promised to change conditions on earth and in humans so that very soon we will be able to enjoy life forever, without ever again having to experience sickness, pain, sadness, or death. (Romans 5:21; Revelation 21:3, 4) He has also provided a sure hope that we'll be able to see our loved ones alive and well again. (John 5:28, 29)

May you have comfort and peace during this difficult time.

“ Jackie my friend,,just remember these little words for a while to bring you comfort. When you are very still and listen intently, you will hear the rustly of angel wings and know that she is till with you! I'm so sorry for you loss but I believe she will always be able to look back and see only the good going on in the peoples lives that she has loved so much for so long. The Lord Jesus Christ is embracing her now and she will never have anything but comfort and wonder in her life from here on. I just hope her mansion is next door to my mommas so we can ALL hang out together one day. Much Love, your friend Char

“ Frances, I love you so much. I always told you that you were so much more than my mother-in-law, you were my friend and I have missed you and miss you even more now. Fly high with the angels because that is what you are now. I know you will be trying to plant flowers in heaven and every time I see flowers I will think of you. Rest In Peace my Sweet Friend. I love you.

“ I will miss Frances. She had a big laugh and a soft heart, and always dressed with such style! When she retired, I was so fortunate to follow in her footsteps as Oxford's receptionist, a position I still hold, 20 years later. Thank you Frances, and God bless you!
