

Henry Hall Cook

October 28, 1933 - June 9, 2025

Henry Hall Cook, born on October 28, 1933, passed away peacefully on June 9, 2025 and entered Heaven at the age of 91.

Hall grew up in Fairburn, Georgia. After graduating from Campbell High School, he joined the United States Air Force and worked as a jet mechanic during his service at Luke Air Force Base in Glendale, Arizona. After being discharged, he worked for Lockheed in California and Georgia. Early in his career, he moved back to Georgia and became a partner at VB Smith Distributors, Inc. He found his career niche and managed this business until his retirement.

Hall enjoyed discussing politics, fishing, boating, aviation, and bird hunting with his sons. He also served as a councilman for the city of Fairburn. However, his greatest love was his wife, Anne, whom he shared countless trips with. They especially enjoyed traveling with friends and regularly traveled across the United States and many other countries.

He was preceded in death by his wife of 43 years, Anne Cook; his father, Jefferson Wayne Cook; his mother, Lula Jackson Cook; his son, Robert Cook; his sister, Doris Smith; and brothers, Donald Cook and Billy Cook.

Hall is survived by a family who will cherish his memory: his sons, Nelson

Cook and his wife, Melinda, Burton Cook and his wife, Crissi, and his daughter-in-law, Kim Pearce. He also leaves behind his sister, Joyce Phillips.

He is also survived by his grandchildren: Madelon Cook, Georgia Ray and her husband, Jeff, Robert Nelson Cook, Mary Sirmans and her husband, Levi, Drew Roberson, and Grant Roberson. He was blessed with great-grandchildren Rowan Reaves, Brooklyn Ray, and Julia Ray. Many nieces and nephews will also remember him fondly.

Hall was a kind man and will be missed by all who knew him.

If you would like to make a donation in Hall's memory, please consider giving to The Sunshine Foundation at Rob's Place, which was founded in honor of his beloved grandson, Robert Nelson Cook.
