“ My deepest sympathy goes to the family. You can, however, draw comfort in the promises found in Gods word. God himself soon promises to do away with all human suffering, including death. Looking to these promises, may the family continue to be strengthened by the many loving memories.-Revelation 21:4, Isaiah 25:8, Psalms 37:11.

“ Dearest Family of Jack Tindall
I join with so many others who knew Jack in offering our deepest sympathy on his passing. Although it is little consolation at this sad time, it should be of some satisfaction to know that in his passing you can celebrate the end of a very long and productive life. The measure of a life well-lived is not in how much money one has or what possessions they have accumulated, but rather through the lives they touched and the sorrow they leave behind. If the outpouring of sympathy on his loss is any indication, and it most certainly is, you can proudly and confidently say that his indeed was a life well-lived.
May you find peace and comfort in knowing that his loss is felt by all who knew and loved him.
In Sympathy,

“ "Mr. Jack" as I liked to address him out of respect and affection was my work "Boss" who we already miss sorely. Mr Jack was the epitomy of a generous person both in life and work. He didn't turn his head about errors or mistakes but he would defend your actions immensely if you were meeting or exceeding his expectations. As with most successful people, Mr. Jack never put off what could be done now for doing tomorrow. We miss his wit, guidance, love and honest concern for his employees, love-ones, friends and guests who entered Mr. Jack Tindall's circle of friendship and professional environment.
