“ Truly one of the good guys.
I never left Lee's presence or conversation without a smile. He had little nick names for the critters. A rabbit was a lop eared galoot, a deer was a forkey toed hair bag, a squirrel was a chisel toothed bastard, and many more.
David Fyffe summed it up well. We will meet again. But you will be missed until then.

“ Ginny, Coby, Amy, Jack, LeAnn & Steve,

My heart aches for all of you and the rest of Lee's family and friends. Just thinking about him makes me smile. He was so funny and sweet. He loved you all fiercely and he was loved by all who knew him...including me. I will never forget the message he sent to me in recent years about how proud he was of me. That meant the world to me. He was such a precious soul. I have been praying for you all every day. I will continue to pray for God to send you comfort, peace that passes all understanding and love...so much love 🙏💜

“ Words fail to express the depth of our love and concern for Lee's family at this time. We know through our wonderful niece, LeAnn, that he was a loving brother and a great guy in general. Please know we wish we could be with you in person and that you are in our hearts as you navigate this difficult time.

“ Dear Entrekin Family,

You all have my condolence and prayers. It is strange and sad for me to know Lee is not physically with us anymore. I will always remember him with fondness. He was my very first friend in Fairburn when we moved across the street in 1955. Lee is an indomitable spirit, fun to be around, with great wit, down-to-earth wisdom, and love for family and friends. His contagious laugh and smile just makes you feel good to be around him. A wonderful neighbor, generous and kind, thoughtful to my elderly Mom bringing her some delicious vegetables from his garden and keeping an eye out for her. Surely, Lee was also the best brother, husband, dad, and family man one could ask for. Realizing this barely scratches the surface of how he will be missed, yet memory is a gift and I hope these precious memories will comfort you as you share in the joy of his bigger-than-life presence on earth, and now his angelic state. May God bless you all.

“ My heart goes out to Lee's family and close friends. I know from working with Lee at Equifax, and later IBM, that his family was the most important thing in the world to him. Hold him in your hearts and you will always know his presence.

“ Ginny and family,
I was so sorry to hear of Lee's death when our cousin, Bobbie Edge, called with the news. Although the extended Langley family doesn't see each other as we once did, reunions were always a time of laughter and shared memories. Lee's death will leave a void the next time we gather. You and all who love Lee have been in my prayers, and I hope happy memories bring comfort and smiles.

Sincerely,

“ Ginny...as I think and pray for you and your Family in this unbearable time...my somewhat feeble mind can't help but wander back to those 5 fabulous years we spent together at Campbell High School. You were special then and you still are. You were also strong and I pray that God will continue to let you be so...as you push forward, surrounded by the love of your incredible family and many Friends!

“ Dear Steve, As you know we had great times when we were kids and you and Lee lived across the street from us. Sometimes Lee could make me laugh so hard I could hardly breathe. And we played football, tramped through the woods, rode bicycles and all. Your Mom and Dad were great also. And in adult years Lee was a wonderful neighbor to our Mom during all those decades. And Mom always loved the vegetables that Lee frequently brought from his garden and left on Mom's back porch for her. Lee was a caring and kind man.

“ Ginny, Amy, Colby, Steve, LeAnn, and extended family, I was saddened and shocked to hear about Lee. I can only imagine your sorrow. I read what Amy said about her dad. It was a sincere tribute to the love and admiration that she has for her dad. That surely summed up what kind of man Lee was. There was a story that I heard many years ago that reminded me that there is no death. Instead one passes on. Lee has passed on like a ship that sails from the shore. We watch as the ship sails to where the water meets the sky and we think it is gone. Gone where? Gone from our sight, that is all. The ship's diminished size is only in our eyes, and not in reality. Like the ship, Lee reaches his destination among shouts of joy from family, loved ones, and friends who welcome his arrival. My prayers, God's peace to all of you.
