“ My heart goes out to all of you during this time of sorrow. You are in my prayers. May your memories comfort you now and in the days ahead. When my Dad died three years ago, a friend send me a card with an Eskimo proverb that brought me a lot of peace. May it do the same for you.

“Perhaps they are not stars, but rather openings in heaven where the love of our lost ones pours through and shines down upon us to let us know they are happy.”

“ Dear Cousins,

So sorry to hear of the passing of your dad. We regret we will be unable to attend the service on Monday. Please know that we are thinking of you. You are in our thoughts and prayers.

“ My deepest condolences go out to the family. Rest assured that God will bring about a change in the near future. God himself will soon completely wipe out sickness, pain, and death for good. As we look forward to the promises, may the many memories comfort the family in the days ahead.-Revelation 21:4, Isaiah 25:8, Psalms 37:11.
