“ I did not have the opportunity to meet Mr. Wingo but I did know his son, Scott & I know he loved his dad well both parents more than anything else in this world.. I am so sorry for your families loss & want to apologize for just now leaving a message for the family but at the time I did not know who the services were being held by.. I want the family to know that you will forever be in my thoughts & prayers.. I also never had the opportunity to meet Ms. Peggy but want her to know she is in my prayers..

“ James was my former father-in-law. I loved watching Andy Griffith with him and remember experiencing the thrill he had at the dog track, along with his mother. While his illnesses gave him physical limitations, he was never short on advice, knowledge, or wit.

He noticed the headlights on my 1983 Honda Prelude weren't aligned properly. I think one was pointed at 90 degrees and the other at 45...so? Anyway, he proceeded to direct me on what to do to get them right. You know...lefty loosey, righty tightly sort of stuff. I got that sorted with his guidance so people soon after quit honking at me on I85, I didn't know I had a problem at the time but James was on it.

He also knew that I was inherently trusting and gullible. By laying 2 ripe (and I mean ripe) bananas under some kind of elephant ear plant, he convinced me the plant produced bananas. In my mind I'm thinking...well that solves the banana shortage that I've been losing sleep over!. Come to find out, there's no banana tree in the yard...I'm going to have harvest my bananas from Kroger or Publix like everyone else. LOL

I will miss his sense of humor and mischief.

Bless the Wingo family as you honor the memory of James.

“ I remember Mr. James as the father of all of me and my siblings best friends. I always remember him working for the phone company...he always had a small tool pouch on his belt. I remember that tool pouch held small tools one of which was a pair of strong scissors. He knew I always admired this tool. He took those scissors out and cut a penny and twisted it and gave it to me. He was a great man..and will be missed. To Mrs. Peggy, Pam, Scott and extended family - I extend my sincere condolences, love and prayers. GOD SPEED MR James...I know you are fixing the phone lines in Heaven. Peace be with you.

“ James was a favorite cousin of mine. He was a lot of fun to be around. There is a family story about him that expresses his personality: when he was a little boy he pulled a little red wagon behind him everywhere he went. One day he took off his pants, put them in the wagon and said, “Ride britches ride!” Rest In Peace Sweet Beautiful cousin. You will always live in my heart. Our prayers go out to Peggy and her family.

Love,

“ While I did not have the honor and privilege of knowing Mr. Wingo; I know his granddaughter. Natalie talked about him all the time and how much of an influence he and her Nana are to her. I know he was a child of God who loved the Lord. I pray for peace that surpasses all understanding for those left behind. May you all find hope that anchors the soul (Heb 6:19) he is dancing on the streets of Gold with Our Heavenly Father rejoicing in his full glory. God bless, Christine Contreras

“ Oh how I remember James when we were younger. I thought he was the most handsome man I had ever seen in my life. He had the most awesome smile and laugh. I think I fell in love with him when I was about 4.....he was older than me and that was exciting. Peggy and family, please know that my heartfelt prayers are with all of you and that I love and adore you. Asking God to give you peace and may James Rest In Peace forever. God bless.
