“Joan and I spent a lot of time the last couple years together. I would call her to see what she might like to eat and she would tell me. I would go get it and eat with her. After that we would sit and talk trying to settle all the problems in Washington D.C. We would also share our concerns about the church, family and other things that bothered us. What a dear she was to me!! I will surely miss her. My sincere sympathy to her family and friends.

*Love to all,

“ She was a beautiful lady and a true friend. We visited on her front porch a few months ago. She said then that she was not afraid of death, but not sure about "what actual dying" would be like. We will miss you, sweet lady, and I know God gave you a well deserved peaceful death, as He promised.
