“ March 4th 2024 we met and you became my first Foreman I'd have in the electrician trade.. You were patient but didn't put up with any BS that they had to offer you and rightfully so. I'll take every little thing that you taught me over the 2 months I was at the shop. Nothing but love, brother. Condolences to all of your family brother but especially the ones at home..your wife,..your children.. may they be at peace as your spirit ascends.

“ A memory, but which one? Castle shopping? The day we talked on the phone for 16.5 hours for no reason? The night you told me you were going to be a Dad? Loud music? Building our own pcs? Your other wreck? My wreck? Talking all night when you were stuck in your truck during a blizzard? The day I shattered after Daddy died, and you said "duh, that's what you have me for, call me when you can't call him. " Or the darkest night of my life when you just kept saying "we'll ve ok" over and over until I believed it. A life time of memories, and now I have to figure out how to get thru this without you to prop me up, make me laugh, distract me...somehow. You were the best friend I ever had and you've left a big hole in the world. I miss you. I love you Little brother! Save me a seat at the bar and keep the whiskey on ice til I get there. V.
