“ I am so saddened to have learned of John's passing last fall. I worked with John (Uncle Charlie) as a school picture photographer in NH and VT in the late 1970's before he moved back to Georgia. We had such a great rapport and working relationship and an amazing fun time together doing the children's portraits for J.N. Rasbach Studios from Shelton, CT. I attempted to contact him recently on facebook, but after a Google search, I saw his obituary and was shocked. My condolences to Sandra, the boys and all his family. I will always remember his kindness, work ethic, and gentle nature. RIP old friend.

“ John was not only a friend, but a classmate, a shipmate and a bandmate. I know God has a big golden bass just waiting for him to thump.

“ Being a fellow graduate with John from North Clayton HS in 1963 brings back so many fond memories of how good natured and caring John was even in HS. Always a gentleman while showing respect to everyone he came in contact with. He certainly fought with courage his battle against his dreaded disease. I share in the pain of your loss of John and all he meant to so many. Prayers for the family as they face many adjustments in the weeks and months to come.

“ My condolences, thoughts and prayers. I was a classmate of John's at North Clayton and he was one of the "good guys" - quite but friendly and always a pleasure to be around. Sorry he was not able to come to your last reunion - he was certainly on everyone's mind. God bless.

“ In addition to being my wonderful big brother and our family photographer, John was the kind, gentle, giving soul in my family. Sandwiched between three older and three younger siblings, he was the heart and soul of the Hancock family. Not only did he set up the shots, he took the photographs, and was also IN the photographs. He did all that with such grace and modesty.

As a photographer of weddings, graduations, family portraits, class reunions, and yearly school pictures, his creative eye and ability to put everyone at ease helped preserve precious moments in the lives of so many people. These photographs, capturing celebratory moments in the lives of so many families across Georgia and Massachusetts, are his legacy.

I feel blessed to have loved him; he taught me so much about how to be a good human being.
