“ To the fiends and family of Jon I send my condolences. I am very sorry for your lost. When a loved ones dies we all ned comfort. Perhaps you are wondering how can I cope? However over time and with support of others our grief will soften. Such painful feeling are only natural. We can pour out our heart in payer to our Heavenly Father because he care for us. In the Bible we can find comfort in the resurrection hope! [John 5 : 28-29] I certainly hope you can find real hope and comfort from these promises. If you would like more on how to cope or why does God allow evil and suffering please visit www.jw.org

“ I am terribly sorry for your loss. I did not know Jon personally, but I do know the pain of losing a loved one. I would like to share with you something that brought me some comfort during such a hard time. I hope that it can do the same for you. Revelation 21:4 says "He will wipe out every tear from their eyes, and death will be no more, neither will mourning nor outcry nor pain be anymore. The former things have passed away." God promises to bring a future where he will eliminate all death and suffering. He also promises that we will be able to see our loved ones once again. In Acts 24:15 he says "there is going to be a resurrection" where we will be with our loved ones once again. Isn't this a beautiful promise? But, how do we know God will keep these promises? I invite you to visit www.jw.org where you can find the answer to this and any other questions you may have. I hope these verses helped bring some comfort, and again I am very sorry for your loss.
