“ If I could have designed the mother I would choose, I would not change a thing about my wonderful mother! She was a happy mom, looking on the sunny side of life. She was a devoted person to her husband and her children. She told us children often that she and dad would not trade any of us for a million dollars. She was an encouraging mom, lifting us up along life's road. She was an easy-to-talk-to mom with whatever we had on our mind. She was a fun-to-be-with mom, giving us as children and adults the happiest of memories. She was a mom of great character showing us the way to live. Loving, caring, sharing, giving, other people-minded -- that's my mom. She was a welcoming mom who always wanted us around and now she is welcomed to her heavenly home. Heaven is more complete because mom is there with her Perfect Savior, the Lord Jesus Christ. Thank you, mom! Your son, John

“ John and I are heartbroken to learn of our neighbors passing. Joyce was a warm, sweet, and caring woman. She and Phil raised children with the same qualities. I hope she knew just how much she will be missed. Sincerely, John and Lindy Capobianco.
