“ Deborah and Family, We are so sorry to hear about your tragic loss. Bob and I and the girls talked about the many times, while sitting in your hygienist chair, we enjoyed all the family photos and how you always lit up speaking so proudly about all four of your beautiful children and Greg. We can't even begin to imagine the hole this has left in your hearts. Please know you are being thought of and prayers will continue to be sent your way. Bob and Dawn Metzger and girls

“ Deborah & Greg,

I was so saddened to hear the news about Kenny. As a parent, I can't imagine how this sort of thing would affect my household. I do hope you are holding in there.

I knew Kenny through my participation with the high school band. It was sort of my responsibility to look after all the equipment. Kenny also took an interest in the equipment as well. He wanted to do many things that only the parents were tasked with. Often times I would have to tell him, "Kenny ...no," then the next day, "Kennyno," and so on.

The thing about this was Kenny was always there when others weren't. He was always thinking about how to do it better. He was always willing to help and often times he was the first of the 150 + band students willing to jump in and help the band. It's so easy to just tell a high school student, "do it this way because I know better". Kenny would jump in and let us know if he thought he had a better idea. The fact that he was still in high school didn't matter. He talked to us as equals. That took a lot of self confidence. I actually saw a lot of myself when I was young in Kenny. I had respect for him and just knew he would be fine moving forward. His confidence and willingness to work would make him successful. Those are difficult traits to find in young people today.

I know Kenny made you proud. He will be missed.

“ Kenny- I was blessed to have met you before most people who would come to know and love you. You were obviously an exceptional little boy then, who through your own strength, coupled with the love and guidance from your family turned into one of the most amazing young men I will ever know. We didn't see each other much over the last couple of years, but that didn't take away from how special you are to me! Your passing has a left a hole on this earth that will never be filled. Until we meet again in Heaven... I love you! -Renee McCollum
