“ Larry was one of the most genuine people I have ever known. Since we lived around the corner from each other there many a nite when he would come over to the house, knock on my bedroom window and say "can I stay over"..... of course, but more times than not, I would end climbing out and head to the Krystal. What great times.... he always made me laugh...

“ I knew Larry for a number of years, when we were both employed at the Atlanta Airport. My memories of him are of a good man with solid principles, so I have no worries about where he is right now....Join me in being thankful that we were fortunate in having him in our lives.....Rest in peace, old friend.
