“ My deepest condolences go to the family. Its so hard to lose someone we love. You can draw comfort in knowing that God will lovingly bring about a change. No longer will pain, suffering, or pain be of concern. We also look forward to being able to welcome all our loved ones back again, right here on earth. As we await this relief, may God continue to watch over the family.-Revelation 21:4, Acts 24:15, Isaiah 25:8.

“ To the Spivey family:

I am very sorry about your loss. Losing a loved one is distressing because we naturally want to keep living happily with our family and friends. (Ecclesiastes 3:11) It is comforting to know that God cares about us and knows what it is like to lose a loved one. (1 Peter 5:7) Thankfully, God has promised to change conditions on earth and in humans so that very soon we will be able to enjoy life forever, without ever again having to experience sickness, pain, sadness, or death. (Romans 5:21; Revelation 21:3, 4) He has also provided a sure hope that we will be able to see our loved ones alive and well again. (John 5:28, 29)

May you have comfort and peace during this difficult time.

“ Our prayers and thoughts are with you and your family. I feel the pain you are going through, because I have been there. I lost my husband and best friend in February of 2007 after 36 years of marriage. But by the grace of God he brought me through it, even though it left a hole in my heart. I have assurance I'll meet him again someday.
