“ I first met Norma Byrd in 1982 when I came to work with Dr. John Haggai. She and I became both co-workers and friends. We shared an interest in proper spelling, punctuation and clarity in writing. She was hard working, but also had a lovely sense of humor. I am saddened by her passing. Earlier this year, we talked about getting together once restrictions were relaxed. Instead, she has joined Dr. and Mrs. Haggai and numbers of others she worked with over the years. My wife, Cynthia, and I will truly miss her. "Well done, good and faithful servant!"
