“ It's been a week since we laid dad to rest. I would trade anything to hear him, just to talk with him again. I miss him dearly, he taught me and my brother so many things about life and the outdoors. One day I'll see him again, I just hope he's proud of me. I couldn't have asked for a better dad. Love David.

“ Norman was a man I respected and we have known each other around 40 years. He was like a real flesh and bone brother. He is my Brother in Christ and one day. I believe soon we will be together again forever.

“ Norman will always be a father figure in my life. He did so much to help me and my career without ever even knowing. He taught me a lot about becoming a man long before I was ready to become a man. He reassured me that family values were not dead nor a thing of the past. He loved animals and cared for everyone around him (even those he occasionally had to "run off" LOL). He always supported his boys and their interests and never suppressed them and you could bet that he wouldn't be too far away from his wife as their love is forever inseparable. Heaven gained another good'un and though our loss here on earth is beyond difficult, we can rest assured that he is enjoying the bountiful blessings that his lifetime of servitude to the Lord and good deeds have bestowed upon him. We'll sure miss you, Norman, we'll always love you and we will never forget you and goodness you exhibited and instilled in your children. Rest in peace and God be with the family and friends.
