

Dr. Pran Sood

May 7, 1942 - April 6, 2026

Dr. Pran Sood, a trailblazer in the field of orthopedics and a cherished pillar of the Atlanta community, passed away peacefully on April 6, 2026, at the age of 83.

Born on May 7, 1942, Dr. Sood devoted his life to healing and service, leaving an indelible mark on both his profession and his community. As a pioneering figure in orthopedic surgery on the southside of Atlanta since the 1980s, he established a solo practice that grew to employ over 100 healthcare professionals and employees, testament to his vision and leadership.

Dr. Sood's influence extended far beyond his medical practice. He was a vital force within the Atlanta community, especially among the Indian community, where he was deeply involved and respected. His philanthropic spirit was recognized with a plaque at the Martin Luther King Jr. Museum, honoring him as one of its first donors.

Dr. Sood's friendships with prominent politicians, dignitaries, and countless community patients reflected his ability to connect with people from all walks of life. His warmth, wisdom, and generosity touched countless lives. He was deeply curious about the world, loved learning about diverse cultures, and made personal connections wherever he traveled.

Preceded in death by his beloved wife, Dr. Lovelina Sood, Dr. Sood is survived by his sons Sunjay Sood and his wife Nalini Singh, Raj Sood and his wife Carey and his cherished grandchildren Nikhil Pran Sood, Ayan Vikram Sood, Ajay Neal Sood, Mira Lovelina Sood, and Dev Pran Sood. He also leaves behind his brothers Amar Sood (Deepti) and Sudhir Sood (Anju), as well as his sisters Usha Sood and Sheela Sood (Harish) and Neena Sood (Krishna).

A service celebrating Dr. Pran Sood's remarkable life will be held on Friday, April 10, 2026, at 2 o'clock in the Chapel of Parrott Funeral Home. His legacy lives on in the family he loved, the community he served, and the countless lives he touched with his healing hands and generous spirit.
