“Dad, you left me with mighty large shoes to fill. Hearing stories this week of how you have touched so many people, and hearing the type of person they knew you as.

*The man who had an answer for everything, the man you would make you laugh if he thought you needed it, the practical joker, the charities that no one knew you gave to, and most of all to me
DAD.*

I can hope to be half the father you were to me as I grow and raise my own.

My life of course has been forever changed. My guiding light has been extinguished, so dad listen carefully from time to time and you will hear me asking you for advice. I am already listening in return for whatever you need to say.

I always wondered if I were adult enough to handle things without picking up the phone and asking what to do. You have taught me well, I have no doubts.

And while I know that you will not be reading this memorable, do know that with the stories I have heard this week, I will daily strive to be more like you. Big shoes to fill.

*With much love my Father,
Your Son, Ron*

“ My sweet father - your journey has finally ended. You were so brave and you fought so hard. Our journey is just beginning as we have to learn to face each day without you in it - a feat that seems impossible. It is with broken hearts that we lay you to rest this week. I know you will be watching over us and guiding us with your love. You were the most amazing father, husband, and friend that anyone could ask for and I am beyond blessed that I got to have you in my life for 28 years. I wasn't kidding when I said you will always be the king of my heart! I love you!

“ I am broken to pieces for all of you! Uncle Ronald lived a life worth emulating - loving his wife, children, grandchildren, and family with his whole heart. I know he leaves an empty space in your hearts. I'm sorry seems so silly to say. I love you!
