“Byron, I know someone will be reading this to you - as I also know how much you don't do alot of clicking on the computer!

I suppose you could say, we grew up in the same world - somewhere between Tyrone and Fayetteville with all the woods and a few pastures between us. We stood next to each other for years as we awaited our class pictures to be taken. You first, Byron Smith and then me, Melissa Smith.

And, we grew up in that space and time where our parents worked their butts off to make our lives better than their own. Your parents, like mine - were simple, hardworking, dedicated people who loved their children and grandchildren, who sacrificed much in the pursuit of just that simple life. Two people who stayed the course, through all the thick of life.

So, now your sweet Mama needs a rest. As we spoke on the phone, I mentioned how incredible it is that you have kept your sweet Mama in your life for many years. What a gift. And, I know that her last weeks and months were not how she would want to continue - and so, she has been called home to meet the one who made her!

In the days, weeks and months ahead - there will be grief. Yet, I pray and trust that soon it will be replaced with that joy that comes from remembering all the good stuff. It's hard to say goodbye, but it was time for your sweet Mama to let go of the suffering and pain.

Stay well, friend from my youth. Trust in the one who made us all and you and I will see our sweet Mamas again one day.

Many hugs to you, Tina and your entire family.
