“ What can I say, Leah? Like I said in the hospital, I remember everything. Memories forever ingrained in my mind. Life is not fair. I join with the rest of creation trying to make sense of it all. Seems like only yesterday we were children in our childhood home. Now you're gone. I'll always love you, and like I told you in the hospital, one way or another, I'll see you later. With a heavy heart, your little brother.

“ All the beautiful moments, my fiancé and I shared really meant the world to me. I couldn't ever thank God enough for bringing us together. She was and is always the best friend I could ever have. It's the simple things that I miss the most right now like the phone calls I would have with her on the way to and from work. Since the moment I first met them, her family has welcomed me wrapping me in their arms with genuine love.
