“ The gates to Heaven opened wide on Thursday morning as the angels prepared for a new arrival. A semi-truck rolled into sight. A man that smiled with his entire face sat high in the seat. The truck pulled into its final stop and the engine noise became silent. The man named Tommy Joe climbed from the cab and looked around. Friends and family that had arrived before him began to walk toward him. He waved with a smile as he turned toward the trailer of memories he brought with him to Heaven. The years of marriage to the love of his life Carolyn he shared with all. The two sons he raised to be strong godly men. He had showed his sons how to be a father that worked hard for his family but also provided for them and still have time to share his wisdom from the road he had traveled and how to have fun in life. To ride a dirt bike or build a tree house, to fix a car or just watch the cars run around a track, to grill a steak or just sit out on the porch with a beer in his hand. But to do all things in proportion so everyone was happy. Now to share the days of watching his grandsons grow and thrive and anchor them as he had anchored his boys.

As the treasures of his life are shared, a voice is heard... " Come my son and enter into the kingdom of heaven." One last look over his shoulder he sees the tears fall on the faces of those he loved so dearly. The voice spoke again " Come my son, for I have seen to them and they will all be fine. You have taught them well for me and one day they will join you here. But until that day arrives, you will watch from here with me. Let us rejoice today for you are home. Tommy Joe smiles and walks to the table for a great feast. The old trucker had made his last stop and he was finally home in Heaven.

To my Aunt Carolyn, Tony and Troy
I love you all and though I can not make it home you are all in my thoughts and prayers. May the Lord give each of you the comfort in knowing Uncle Tom is in Heaven.

Love Always,
Tonia and family.
